Israelis, Arabs Continue Fighting Over Suez Canal

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian planes dueling over the Suez Canal today, and the Israelis claimed their airmen shot down three of the Egyptian jets.

This raised to 57 the number of Egyptian planes which Israel claims to have destroyed since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. The last claim was on Oct. 6, when the Israelis said they shot down three MIGs over the Israeli-occupied Sinai desert.

Israel admits to the loss of only 14 warplanes in action against all its Arab neighbors since the 1967 war.

Israel said all of its planes returned safely from the dogfight today.

An Israeli spokesman said the air battle took place about 8:30 a.m. over the southern part of the blocked waterway during an Israeli air raid on Egyptian targets.

The Israeli fliers brought down the three Egyptian jets with air-to-air missiles and gunfire, the spokesman said. He reported all the planes went down on the Egyptian side of the canal, that one disintegrated, the wings of another fell off, and the pilot of the third bailed out.

It was the second day of intense air activity over the canal. On Monday, Egyptian planes attacked Israeli positions at the northern and southern ends of the waterway, while Israeli planes attacked the Egyptian side of the Gulf of Suez and hit Egyptian military targets along the central sector of the canal.

An Israeli senior staff officer said Monday that Israeli planes have knocked out all Egypt's anti-aircraft missile sites along the 103-mile Suez Canal during the past three months and have damaged or destroyed all Egyptian radar sites along the waterway and the Gulf of Suez.

In Cairo, meanwhile, the Joint Arab Defense Council resolved Monday night at the end of a three-day conference that "mobilization and force" is the only solution to the Israeli crisis. The council also agreed "in principle" to an Arab summit conference in Rabat, Morocco, and set Dec. 20-22 as the tentative date.

Another council resolution accused the U.S. government of an "aggressive act" against the Arab nations because it would not prevent persons with dual Israeli and American citizenship from serving in the Israeli armed forces. The resolution added that "Israeli aggression against the Arabs is consolidated by the United States' continuous supplies of arms and warplanes to Israel" and said it would resist "the American stand ... with all possible means."

Although his ruling dealt most directly with the rights of a Washington doctor accused of performing an illegal abortion, the judge added:

"There has been increasing indication in decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States that as a secular matter, a woman's liberty and right of privacy extends to family, marriage and sex matters, and may well include the right to remove an unwanted child, at least in the early stages of pregnancy."

Since the law is a federal one, the ruling could be appealed directly to the Supreme Court. Gessell also suggested that Congress might want to rewrite it, providing more concrete terms.

The District of Columbia law is similar to laws in 40 states. A few states, of which Colorado was the first, have laws allowing doctors to perform abortions when pregnancy endangers a woman's physical or mental health, or when caused by rape or incest.

That position is embodied in a model law prepared by the American Medical Association and was brought before a number of state legislatures this year.

Veterans Day History Given

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fighting in World War I came to an end on Nov. 11, 1918, and the date came to be observed as Armistice Day in Great Britain, France and the United States.

The day was devoted to ceremonies in remembrance of those who died in the Great War.

After World War II, the dead of both global wars were honored on Nov. 11. Canada changed the name to "Remembrance Day," and Britain began marking the Sunday nearest to Nov. 11 as "Remembrance Sunday."

It became Veterans Day in the United States on June 1, 1954, after the Korean war. President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the measure changing the name and extending the observance to include the dead of all U.S. wars.

Bombs Blast 3 N.Y.C. Buildings

PAINT JOB — Chet Hill's painters are painting the trim on the lower windows of City Hall. The window trim on the second and third floor is also badly in need of a coat of paint, but some trim needs to be replaced. A major overhaul of the city building is being tentatively planned, possibly to begin next year.

Apollo 12 Astronauts Fly Chopper, Jet For Practice

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —

The Apollo 12 astronauts, who will fly the world's most sophisticated machine to the moon, train today in more prosaic vehicles—a helicopter and a jet plane.

Charles Conrad Jr., who will command the mission, planned to operate the helicopter as if he were hovering the lunar landing craft before selecting a landing spot on the moon.

Richard F. Gordon Jr., the command module pilot, will zip across southern Florida in a T38 jet to sharpen his flying proficiency. He will orbit the moon next week while Conrad and Alan L. Bean explore the surface below.

Bean planned to run through emergency check-out procedures in the lunar module training vehicle.

At the launch pad everything continued on schedule as crews prepared the Saturn 5 rocket and the two spaceships for launching at 11:22 a.m. EST Friday.

Apollo 12 is to swing into orbit around the moon next Monday night, and at 1:53 a.m. next Wednesday Conrad and Bean are to fly the lunar craft they call Intrepid to a landing in the Ocean of Storms.

A major goal of the flight is a pinpoint landing. Apollo 11 missed its landing point by four miles last July.

Conrad and Bean hope to touch down within walking distance of an unmanned Surveyor craft which soft-landed on the moon 2½ years ago. They intend to retrieve pieces of the

4 Strikers Free Of Court Contempt

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four strikers at the General Electric Co. plant in suburban Evendale were free of contempt of court charges today after Hamilton County Common Pleas Court ruled Monday that affidavits charging them with blocking gates were incomplete.

The four, Charles Weigel, Leonard Gavins, Mathew Harrison, Cincinnati and James Funicelli, Newport, Ky., could be recharged, attorneys for GE said.

Surveyor to determine how well the materials have withstood the battering of micrometeorites and exposure to the solar wind, a constant outpouring of high speed particles from the sun.

The astronauts are to remain on the moon 31½ hours, each working outside a total of seven hours. They'll deploy a set of scientific instruments and collect carefully documented rocks.

Solons Get Final Word On Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has put senators on notice that reform of the military draft this year will be limited to the President's lottery proposal or there will be no reform at all.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., with the unanimous vote of his committee behind him, issued that notice Monday although he insisted several times it was no ultimatum.

Stennis said he would meet with senators who want a sweeping, comprehensive overhaul of the Selective Service System now, to try to persuade them to hold off reform amendments until next year.

He and the committee promised to hold extensive hearings on draft reform proposals—including changes in deferments, conscientious objector status, methods of classification, and makeup of local draft boards—no later than Feb. 15.

There was no immediate reaction to the move by the Senate's Democratic leadership who have insisted the draft should be reformed in one package and not one piece at a time.

All members of the committee pledged to act to avoid amendments on the Senate floor aimed at expanding the House-passed bill which calls for random selection of draft eligible young men from a pool composed of men mostly 19 years old.

Violence Grows As Filipinos Cast Ballots

Political Killings Top 50 Mark Since Last June

MANILA (AP) — Filipinos voted in apparently heavy numbers today for president, vice president and members of Congress.

First returns after the polls closed in Manila gave President Ferdinand dE. Marcos a lead of 4,336 votes to 3,765 votes for Sen. Sergio Osmena Jr.

Reports of violence in scattered areas poured into Manila during the day but officials said that over-all voting was orderly and perhaps less violent than in years past.

Nevertheless the death toll since the campaign opened in June appeared to pass 50.

The more than 30,000 American servicemen and dependents in the Philippines were restricted to their bases and their home nearby until varying times Wednesday to avoid any impression that they were interfering in the election.

National police held to their official figure of 32 political killings in the campaign but conceded that late reports had not been tabulated. The Evening News reported 36 killed since midnight, while the Philippines Herald reported 19 killed in the last 50 hours.

More than 50,000 police and troops were out on election duty. Violence is a part of every political campaign in the Philippines. More than 40 persons (Continued on Page 2)

Westinghouse In Columbus Still Closed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The number of pickets at the Westinghouse Corp. plant here was limited to 12 late Monday after vandals earlier caused $15,000 to $20,000 damage at the struck plant.

Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Archer E. Reilly ordered the number of pickets to be limited to three at each of the plant's four gates. The court order was requested by Westinghouse attorneys.

Some 4,000 members of International Union Electrical Workers Local 746 struck the plant just past midnight Monday morning in an unresolved dispute over local issues.

A few hours after the strike began, vandals hit the plant, knocking down large letters spelling "Westinghouse" on the front lawn, breaking windows and wrecking guard houses at the four gates.

Two Franklin County sheriff's cars and a fire truck, summoned to put out a utility pole fire, were stoned and a township patrolman said his patrol car was hit by stones. A car belonging to a plant security guard was burned.

Fewer than 100 supervisory personnel in the plant when the strike began remained on duty. Others who sought to enter the plant were turned away by pickets, who ranged at times from 30 to 75 at each gate.

Revco Pharmacies Closed By Strike

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Pharmacies remained closed today in a score of Revco D. S., Inc. stores in northeastern Ohio as a strike by pharmacists went into its second day.

Some 80 Revco's 200 pharmacists were striking, most of them in the Cleveland-Akron area.

City Proposals For Bottleneck Funds Approved

The Pickaway County Regional Planning and Zoning Commission in a special session Monday approved two proposed traffic bottleneck elimination projects in the city of Circleville.

A new priority list for $750,000 available to the county and the city in funds from a 1968 state bond issue has been forwarded to the State Highway Department. The new list rescinds one submitted last week.

Circleville's projects are ranked second and third on the list. The two city projects are widening of Nicholas Drive and improving the intersection of Route 188 and Pickaway St. and Atwater Ave.

Estimated cost of the Nicholas Drive proposal is $243,500, and of the Route 188 project, $76,000. The city also submitted a proposal to widen Route 22 at the Kroger Shopping Center during a meeting Saturday morning with county commissioners Wayne Hines, Dick Tootle and Charles Morris.

THIS project was not placed on the priority list, however. The new priority list prepared by the Regional Planning Commission gives the county's proposed project of a new overpass bridge over the Norfolk and Western Railroad on the Circleville-Tarlton Road a number one rating. Detailed plans for the bridge have already been completed, and work can begin as soon as funds are available.

The second priority rating was accorded the Nicholas Drive project and the third rating the Route 188 project. A proposal for replacing the old

Brother Saves Sister's Life In Home Mishap

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An 11-year-old boy is credited with averting tragedy Monday when his younger sister's hair and clothing caught fire.

Valerie Berchak, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Berchak of suburban Brook Park, reached for a kettle of boiling water on the front burner of a gas stove and her hair and clothing caught fire.

The mother was in a bedroom when the accident occurred.

The girl's screams brought her brother, Timothy, from the living room where he had been listening to music. He tore his sister's clothing off and poured water on her hair.

Valerie was sent home after treatment at Southwest General Hospital in Berea for burns of the hands, arms, shoulder and chest. She is a first grader at Pearl Road Elementary School.

New State Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new state law, signed as an emergency measure Monday by Gov. James A. Rhodes, requires insurance companies doing business in Ohio to join together to underwrite ghetto insurance losses from riots and other disorders.

Little Damage Is Reported; 1 Man Injured

NEW YORK (AP) — Bombs exploded in three Manhattan skyscrapers early today, slightly injuring one man and causing limited damage.

About six hours later a news agency received an unsigned special delivery letter saying, "During this week of antiwar protest, we set off explosions in offices of Chase Manhattan, Standard Oil, and General Motors."

The letter, blaming "the giant corporations of America" for the world's ills, was in the same literate, press release style of similar letters sent to news agencies after a bomb exploded outside Army and draft offices in the Manhattan federal building last Sept. 19.

Police said they were investigating the letter.

The new blasts occurred about 1:05 a.m., minutes after telephoned warnings. The letter claiming responsibility for them bore two separate postmarks, one at 11:10 p.m. and another at 12:02 a.m. It was sent to United Press International.

The blasts hit in the 70-story RCA Building in Rockefeller Center, the new 50-story General Motors Building at 59th Street and Fifth Avenue and the 60-story Chase Manhattan Building in the downtown financial district.

The blast in the GM building caught maintenance employee Joseph Brando, 26, of Brooklyn, in a freight elevator two floors away. His car plummeted six floors before it stopped and he managed to get out. He was not seriously injured.

All of the blasts occurred in or near elevator shafts causing heavy local damage but no fire. All occurred at about 1:05 a.m. EST. All could have been fatal to anyone in the immediate area, officials said.

First hint of the impending blasts came at 12:35 a.m. Police said a man telephoned the security police at the Chase Manhattan Building and warned:

"There are three bombs which will go off at about the same time in three different buildings."

At the same time a switchboard operator at the RCA Building took a call from a man who said, "I am calling to let you know there is going to be a bomb exploding from the 11th floor to the 18th floor in 20 minutes."

At the GM Building police said a call was received about 1 a.m. warning that everyone (Continued on Page 2)

Fog Holds Northeast In Its Grip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and mild weather dominated wide areas of the nation today, but fog persisted in sections of the Northeast.

Temperatures in the 40s, and occasional 50s, were common before daybreak. Subfreezing weather generally was confined to the Rockies and parts of the northern plains.

A continued absence of any sweeping winds maintained early-morning fog conditions in much of the Northeastern quarter of the nation.

Heavy rain soaked parts of southern New England. Boston was drenched by 1½ inches during the night, bringing its 24-hour total to 2.10 inches.

Snow fell through the northern Rockies, but fair weather was the rule in most other areas of the West.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 25 at Winnemucca, Nev., to 74 at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Beverage Company Wants Drinks OK'd

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Nehi-Royal Crown Beverage Co., Inc., Grand Rapids, Mich., sought Monday to set aside a federal ban on the use of cyclamate, an artificial sweetener, in a suit in the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The firm said it has been stuck with $250,000 worth of soft drinks since a ban was announced Oct. 18, by Robert H. Fitch, Secretary of Health Education and Welfare.

Vietnam War Casts Shadow On Veterans Day Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans honored their war dead today amid demonstrations of support for President Nixon's Vietnam policy and preparations for protests against the U.S. course in that latest of conflicts.

Those who back the administration's Vietnam position seized on Veterans Day to try to signify that there is in fact a "great, silent majority" just as Nixon said in a Nov. 3 speech. The date, which marked the end of fighting in World War I in 1918, was observed as Armistice Day until 1945. For the past 15 years it has been Veterans Day, a salute to American veterans of all wars.

Veterans Day 1969 comes only a week and a day after Nixon asked the nation for support on Vietnam and only two days before the start of a new round of war protests which are to wind up with a mass rally in Washington Saturday.

Ardent supporters of the President hoped today's activities would become a counterdemonstration to the war protest. Civic, fraternal and veterans' organizations came up with or announced support for ad hoc groups opposing moratoriums and other "get out of Vietnam now" demonstrations. While they carried on their programs today, Nixon himself was headed for a veterans' hospital in the capital. His daughter, Mrs. David Eisenhower, followed his lead but chose a hospital in Northampton, Mass.

Nixon issued his Veterans Day proclamation on Sept. 24, calling for citizens to honor "those men who have preserved our Union and our freedom."

"I ask that special prayers for peace be offered for our men still involved in defending the inalienable right of liberty; and for those whose memory we honor with a star of gold, let us pause in silent tribute on this Veterans Day, praying that their sacrifices will bring us peace."

Placing of the traditional presidential wreath for the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery was assigned to David Packard, deputy secretary of defense. And the administrator of veterans' affairs, Donald E. Johnson, prepared a speech warmly supporting Nixon's attempt to end the war in Vietnam. He said tickets for all reserved seats for the 11 a.m. program at Arlington were taken for the first time in 16 years.

Veterans Day

On Veterans Day millions of older Americans will recall that day in 1918 when guns became silent and World War I was over. Still more of us remember more recent Veterans Days, in peace and in war.

It is because we have come to look on this nation's destiny with different eyes that Armistice Day became Veterans Day. We have come to realize that World War I did not make the world safe for democracy. We see now that no war, however costly in sacrifice, could do that.

Veterans Day, 1969, is not a time for blind optimism. It is hardly a time for the uplifting hope that all the losses and all the sorrows of two great world wars, and two lesser conflicts, purchased the assurance of better things.

Strong men are as busy as ever moving victim peoples on the chessboard toward greater depths of tragedy and degradation.

In this situation the nation must be more mindful than ever of its defenses against aggressors. America must continue to stand staunchly for those principles of order and justice which alone will make life on this earth supportable.

Automated Taverns

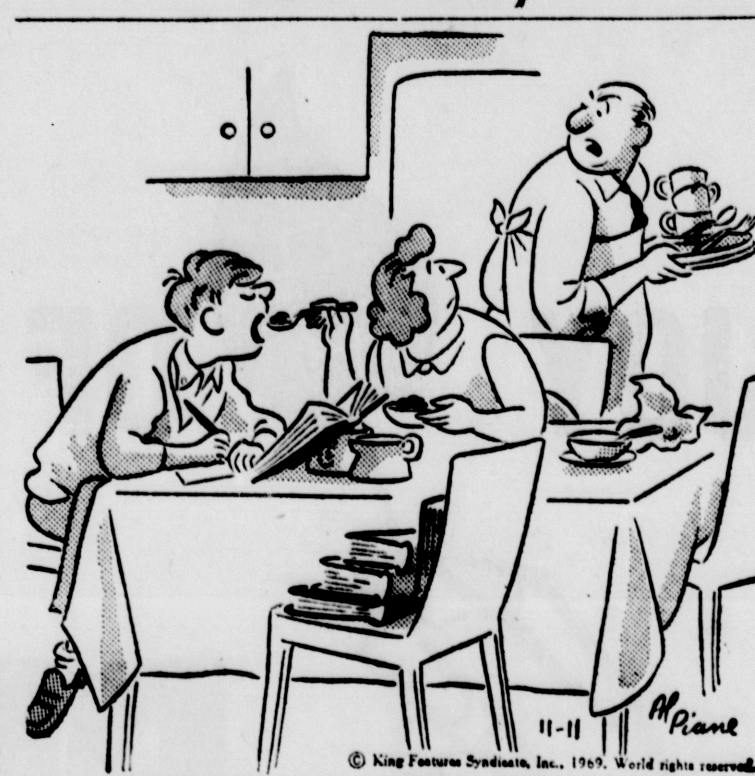

Automation has invaded some unusual fields, but an electronically controlled beer dispenser which not only regulates to the last drop the liquid poured into a glass, but also controls the amount of head desired and counts the number of glasses dispensed?

This is the invention of a Kansas firm, which is now marketing it on a limited scale. A solenoid-activated valve, instead of a bartender's eye, regulates the flow of the brew. At the end of the day a counter on the device records the number of sales which should have been made on the cash register.

If this idea catches on, the neighborhood taproom may never be the same. About all that is missing is a timer on each stool to tell the patron it is time to buy or leave. Chances are, someone will get to that sooner or later.

Laff-A-Day

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE SAGACIOUS but cautious owner of a business that had grown in twenty-five years from a two-room office to a twenty-two-story skyscraper sent this note to a head bookkeeper who had been an employee from the day the firm first had opened its doors:

"Dear Seymour: Twenty-five years we've been together! I hardly can believe it. And as a slight token of my esteem for you, your lifetime contract is hereby extended for another three years. . . ."

The captain of a Scottish freighter took on two new hands, one a Kirkcaldy man without a letter of recommendation, the other a man from Dundee with a whole packet of endorsements from former employers testifying to his honesty.

The freighter had not been long at sea when it encountered foul weather, and the Dundee man, crossing the deck with a bucket in his hand, was swept overboard. The Kirkcaldy man saw what had happened and leisurely sought out the captain. "Dae ye mind your man fra Dundee?" he said, "him that ye engaged wi' the fine character?" "Yes," said the captain. "What about him?" "He's awa' wi' yer bucket!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Educators in medicine who inspire their students to continue scientific studies, leave as a testimonial to themselves the prolonged health of mankind. Recently, at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, a vast group of students and admirers of Dr. John E. Bordley came to pay tribute and homage to him as the outgoing Professor of Diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat. From all parts of the world came his disciples to honor him by presenting their newest contributions to the deaf and to those with speech and other communication problems. Many of the men whom Dr. Bordley trained are now full professors at famous medical schools and hospitals all over the world.

I was privileged to take part in this symposium. It was exciting for me to learn of the progressing scientific attacks on the mysteries of deafness that have evaded us. Only the deaf and their families really understand the painful magnitude of silence. To them I particularly write to tell of the new hope that lies in the newer knowledge for the prevention of deafness and the treatment of profound hearing ailments.

Communication between person and person and even nation and nation is the very essence of mutual respect and understanding. When communication is handicapped early in life by poor speech, based on bad hearing and by reading disabilities and eye disturbances, that child pays a penalty for the rest of his life. At the Baltimore symposium, the prevention of deafness and brain damage following infectious diseases, especially German measles acquired at birth, was outlined.

The rehabilitation of adults with hearing impairments who are isolated from society was emphasized. The psychological understanding of the deaf is the key to bringing them fulfillment and to liberating them from the bonds of silence. A greater knowledge of nerve deafness, its prevention and possible cure, is now only a matter of time.

Early recognition of cancers of the larynx and vocal cords means greater success and more permanent cures. New eardrums fashioned out of heart valves, when used as grafts, excited the imagination of all of us who were privileged to hear of these advances.

profound respect for his worldwide training of physicians.

Would There Be Atrocity

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

President Richard Nixon, in his gallant effort to end the U.S. involvement in South Vietnam without selling out an ally, has to contend with students who have never traveled and have no firsthand memory of the crises that have created the pattern of the post-World War II world. The students, being young, will live and learn, and one hopes it won't be on the beaches of Australia or Hawaii. But what do you do about a man like Averell Harriman, who has spent a lifetime dealing with the Communists and still seems unable to form any valid generalizations from the things he has experienced?

Just after President Nixon had warned his listeners that any sudden Viet Cong takeover in South Vietnam would surely be followed by massacres of the anti-Communist and Catholic populations, Harriman went on the air to him and haw when asked about the probability of blood baths in case of a U.S. withdrawal. It was quite impossible to know with certainty what Harriman was driving at, but he seemed to be saying that a coalition government in South Vietnam could be trusted to hold murder to a minimum, and, anyway, he didn't think the Viet Cong would want to kill large numbers of their enemies. He had told the Yale students the same thing the previous week, throwing in a gratuitous slap at columnist Joseph Alsop, who thinks Communists are murderous by conviction.

Harriman hasn't always been wrong in his predictions of Communist behavior; during World War II he warned Washington that Joseph Stalin intended to take all of Europe that the Russian marshals could get their hands on. But his flashes of good judgment have been intermittent, to say the least. In 1945 he badgered the Rumanian non-Communist leaders into entering a coalition with Communists. Naturally, the non-Communists didn't live very long to tell the tale, or, if they did, their words were wasted on the silent walls of Joe Stalin's prisons.

It may be quite true that Rumania, being on the lee side of the Soviet armies when World War II was concluded, had no choice save to go Communist. However, Harriman might have warned the non-Communist Rumanians to take a night train to Turkey while the going was still good.

Harriman didn't do much better when, as our Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, he had to deal with the "neutralization" of Laos, where he tried to force the local anti-Communists into a coalition. Again, it could have been true that much of Laos was essentially indefensible; we subsequently found that out in our efforts to keep the North Vietnamese from using the Ho Chi Minh trail. But the point about Harriman is that, out of the depth of his experience, he might have warned President Kennedy that a "cease-fire" in Laos followed by an accommodation with the Communists would have a "domino effect" on neighboring South Vietnam, which was in process of happening until we intervened.

SA Children Suffer From Malnutrition

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — About one million young African children in South Africa are suffering from malnutrition and the number is likely to increase, Prof. John Reid warned. "To me it seems that, like the poor, we will have the malnourished always with us," said Reid, professor of physiology at Natal University's Medical School.

Two sets of canal locks are located on the Saranac River in N. Y. for use by pleasure boats and canoes; one between Lake Oseetah and Lower Saranac Lake and the other between Lower and Middle Saranac Lakes.

Harriman is now bemoaning the "unrepresentative" character of the Thieu - Ky government in South Vietnam. But, as one of the State Department group that advised John F. Kennedy to get rid of the Diem regime in Saigon, Harriman bears some of the blame for whatever has taken place in South Vietnam since 1962. As the late Marguerite Higgins said, the destruction of the Diem government wiped out almost everyone in the country who had had any important experience in administration. Query: how do you advance "democracy" by killing off expertise?

If there is one generalization that can be made above all others, it is that Communists murder the opposition wherever they take power. Has Harriman forgotten the mass slaughter of the Polish army officers in the Katyn forest? Has he forgotten what happened in the Baltic provinces in 1940? A good estimate is that seventy million people have been killed by Communists since 1917. The Washington Intelligence Report edited by Herbert Philbrick has added up the figures; they include the liquidation of seven million Cossacks, five million Byelorussians, seven million Ukrainians, a million or more North Caucasians and nine million Russians, to say nothing of a million Japanese prisoners of war and technicians caught in Manchuria. At least thirty million Chinese died because of Mao Tse-tung's taste for anti-Communist and non-Communist blood. If Chiang Kai-shek and his men hadn't escaped to Formosa, would they still be alive?

Does anybody in his right mind believe that the successors to Ho Chi Minh would be less likely to indulge in massacre than the men who taught nice old Uncle Ho his business? I'd like to give Averell Harriman a second chance to answer that question.

WASHINGTON MEMO

By Congressman
CHALMERS P. WYLIE
15th District of Ohio

On Tuesday, I spoke on the Floor of the House in response to the President's statement on Vietnam. His strong denunciation of a unilateral withdrawal certainly met with my approval. As I listened, I sympathized with the President. He has inherited a situation which is as difficult as any in history, with the possible exception of the decision President Lincoln had to make on the Civil War. It seemed to me that the President took the only rational approach. If we simply surrendered and said there is no hope — we are pulling out, we could have no self-respect as a nation. I like his strong appeal for unity. Just now, we must unite behind President Nixon if we are to negotiate a meaningful peace.

He announced no cease fire. He said that we would continue withdrawal as quickly as South Vietnam troops can take over the military responsibility. The President is searching for a lasting peace in Vietnam. I thought he was right that we cannot give up a chance for lasting peace by immediate surrender. That would be a disaster of immense magnitude and there would be no opportunity for lasting peace. The President has taken many steps which he hopes will bring about an early and peaceful settlement and yet insure the integrity of South Vietnam. I think the "silent majority," as he called them, will support him in his approach to "Vietnamize" the search for peace. My mail, so far, indicated overwhelming support from the 15th District.

On Wednesday, the House passed a stiff Bank Holding Company measure. Since May 9, 1956, 830 One Bank Holding Companies have been formed and acquired assets running into billions of dollars ranging from pizza parlors to insurance companies. The rapid growth of One Bank Holding Companies in recent years has caused the Administration and Congress much concern that such companies were accumulating too much economic power. As a matter of fact, the Administration had a bill introduced early in the 91st Congress to regulate One Bank Holding Companies. A holding company owning 25 per cent or more of the stock of two or more banks has been regulated since 1956 so that for them such an economic concentration of power through unrelated businesses was not possible. Historically, banking and commerce have been separate. Economic concentrations of power led to the Stock Market Crash in 1929 and legislation which would separate banking from non-banking entities was passed in the early 1930's.

The bill, as reported by the Committee, would have divorced banking and non-banking activities of holding companies formed after February 17, 1969. I offered an amendment which the House approved which would return this date to May 9, 1954, the date on which the original Bank Holding Company legislation was passed. My argument was that any other date would permit companies existing before that date to continue the very acts which this legislation is supposed to proscribe. The bill is admittedly a tough measure and its outcome in the Senate is uncertain at best. I think, basically, it is a good bill because it will foster the orderly growth of small banks and maintain one of our basic economic concepts in America, that banking and commerce should remain separate as corporate entities.

Also on Wednesday, the House adopted a House-Senate conference report which would double Food Stamp funds almost immediately. The measure passed by a voice vote under procedures that barred amendments. The Senate approved the same measure on Thursday.

Basically, the bill would raise the Food Stamp ceiling for fiscal year 1970 to $610 million. The program, to help the poor obtain an adequate diet, now has a ceiling of $340 million.

This week Major General John N. McLaughlin of the United States Marine Corps notified me that a resident of the 15th Congressional District, Private First Class Christopher M. Gawne, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Gawne, was named Honorary of his Battalion at graduation on July 9, 1969. He won this distinction in competition with 284 other young men by displaying an exceptional measure of skill and professional knowledge in a wide range of basic military subjects. PFC Gawne was judged superior in conduct, attitude, military bearing and leadership potential during his eight weeks of training.

Private First Class Gawne is assigned to Communication Electronics School in San Diego, California. I feel that this achievement is noteworthy, particularly at this time when the defectors and deserters are getting the headlines.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — After a decade of rising friction between consumers and producers, many of the issues seem to remain unresolved. Irritations have grown deeper and more painful, and many scars have appeared.

Instead of being quieted, consumer complaints seem to have grown louder. And where once the shouts seemed to fall on plugged ears, even whispered complaints now seem to be picked up in Washington. It's good politics.

In the past five years more than 20 important consumer bills have been passed by Congress, including laws on automobile safety, packaging and credit. And more than 100 bills are in the Congressional hopper.

At the White House there is more action. The President has proposed a permanent consumer office there. And he seeks also a new division of consumer protection at the Justice Department.

In fact, the evidence seems to add up to a defeat for business in its quest to handle the problem in its own way. Self-regulation does not appear to be winning in the battle to please the consumer.

One of the major reasons for the friction, ironically, is the growing financial well being of Americans, who once bought to satisfy needs but who now have the funds with which to be choosy. They are discretionary spenders.

This affluence is directly tied to the output of America's enormous production machinery, which puts so many complex products on the market that it has become almost impossible to choose either wisely or easily.

In the typical large supermarket, for example, there are 8,000 items of varying sizes and shapes to choose from. And this number already has been narrowed from a total of 40,000 items available from the warehouse.

These products also are constantly being varied, presumably improved. New items become complex; recent purchases become old fashioned. By the time a buyer familiarizes himself with a product, the formula is changed.

Many stores have improved their customer complaint departments. And factories have improved their quality control in some instances. But still the irritation exists.

In an effort to provide much more information about products, some stores are experimenting this Christmas season with large printed tags that anticipate questions. If successful, it still will be only part of the answer.

Business has, however, learned well the formula for moving products. The marketing and advertising of goods has become very sophisticated, with subtle psychology wedded to hard selling. Perhaps as a result, some consumers have the feeling of being manipulated.

State Official Moonlights To Pay Debts

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Secretary of State Lued Kramer is moonlighting as a gas station attendant to pay off the debts of his unsuccessful campaign for mayor of Seattle.

He is also available for other part-time work, such as washing dishes in a restaurant.

Kramer said his bid for the office of mayor left him with $10,000 in debts. He ran third in the primary last month and was eliminated from the race.

"My supporters were wonderful in trying to collect funds, but there was only so much to be had," Kramer said. "No one wants to give much money, once you are a loser. I have no one to blame but myself."

The secretary of state, 38, said he plans to maintain his normal 10-hour day and five-day week in his state office and to work another 30 hours a week in part-time jobs. He took on his gas station chore last Friday.

Kramer said he thinks he can get along on about five hours of sleep a night until he has paid off his creditors.

"It's no worse than the schedule I've been following along the banquet and speaking trail," he commented.

Kramer, a Republican, said his $15,000 salary as secretary of state provides support for his wife and four children.

OFBF Chief Says Farm Bill Good

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Farm legislation introduced last week by 38 congressmen, nine of them from Ohio, has drawn praise from the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

C. William Swank, executive vice president of the bureau, said, "It's a move from the old to the new, in the right direction, which supports the idea that the market system is a better price-making mechanism than the government."

Swank said the legislation, called the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1969, is in line with the members at the group's last meeting.

The program provides for a five-year phasing out of government acreage control, processing taxes, direct payments and marketing quotas.

It also calls for the government to retire 10 million acres of the Cropland Adjustment Program between 1971 and 1975, price supports of not more than 85 per cent, and special assistance to low-income farmers who wish to leave commercial farming.

The Ohio Congressmen who introduced the legislation were:

Republicans William Harsha, Portsmouth; Charles Mosher, Oberlin; William Stan-ton, Painesville; Clarence J. Brown, Urbana; William Minshall, Columbus; John Ashbrook, Johnstown; Jackson Betts, Findlay; and Donald Lukens, Middletown.

Post Office Workers Win Court Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 450,000 Post Office workers won a victory Monday in the Supreme Court when the justices let stand a ruling that liberalizes overtime pay.

The ruling, given last February by an appeals court here, was challenged by the government as a misinterpretation of federal pay law. In seeking a hearing the government contended the ruling would cost the Treasury more than $100 million through this year.

But the high court, which is generally inclined to review decisions of lower courts that went against the government, decided in this instance to reject the government's appeal.

The core of the decision by the U.S. Circuit Court for the District of Columbia is that a post office worker is entitled to overtime pay when his days off are temporarily changed—even though he winds up working the normal 40 hours that week.

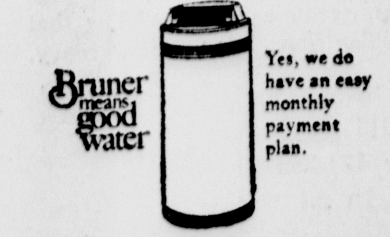

The government argued that the 1965 pay law provided for overtime pay only when the worker puts in more than 40 hours.

Until the law was enacted a Post Office worker could be called in on his day off and given a compensating day off within the following five days.

Alan Bean's First Space Trip To Be Lunar

By PAUL RECER AP Aerospace Writer SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — In the seven years he has been an astronaut, Alan L. Bean claims the most dangerous thing he's done is play a spirited game of handball in the astronaut gymnasium.

He's the last member of the first three groups of astronauts to fly into space. Since his selection in 1963, he's been a bridesmaid twice—serving two times as a back up crewman—but Apollo 12 is his first space trip.

And it's a big one. Bean, a nearly bald, quiet-speaking Texan, will be the fourth man to walk the surface of the moon. He is the lunar module pilot on the second moon landing mission—scheduled to be launched Friday—and will spend about seven hours walking the moon.

While waiting for his chance to fly, Bean has spent more time than most playing handball in the astronaut gym and is one of the better players of the popular spaceman's sport.

"It's darn dangerous on that small court," he said.

Bean is something of a paradox. He looks more like a quietly living lower-level executive than a hot Navy pilot who admittedly relishes the daring, the different and the dangerous.

The spirit of the daredevil has been a part of Bean's makeup since he was a toddler, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bean of Fort Worth, Tex.

His mother said that at 4 he frightened the neighbors by climbing to the top of a roof and walking its ridge.

"He was always climbing to the top of some tree and testing the strength of its limbs," she says. "He always liked to be up high when he was little and to go fast."

This trait led naturally into a fascination for flying, and as a youth he hung around pilots at the naval air station in Grand Prairie, near Fort Worth.

When he turned 17, Bean quickly joined the Naval Reserve, the first step toward Navy wings.

After graduation from high school in 1952, Bean went to the University of Texas on a Navy scholarship. He majored in aeronautical engineering and made firm plans to be a Navy pilot.

He was graduated in 1955, received a Navy commission and then earned his wings. After four years on an attack squadron, Bean attended the Navy test pilot school at Patuxent River, Md., and remained there as a test pilot after graduation. He flew all the Navy aircraft, from the hottest jets to the slowest helicopters.

Bean was on another attack squadron when the space agency selected him as a member of the third group of astronauts.

The Texan said he was happy to be flying on Apollo 12 with two experienced spacemen, Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., the commander, and Richard F. Gordon Jr., the command ship pilot.

All three are Navy commanders.

Bean is married to a very pretty blonde, the former Sue Ragsdale of Dallas. They met while in college and both were on the gymnastics team.

They have two children—Clay, 13, and Sammy Sue, 6. Bean listed "playing with his children" as his favorite hobby, but he's also a good amateur painter.

The Beans are active Methodists. They were charter members of the Clear Lake Methodist church, near the Manned Spacecraft Center, and Bean attends most Sundays that he's in town. He once taught a Sunday School class, but had to quit because training for the Apollo flight kept him away from home so much.

"Two things are major factors in a man's life," the 37-year-old spaceman said. "One is his technical knowledge and ability. The other is his ethics, which are mainly the result of religious conviction."

As with all spacemen preparing for flights, Bean is immersed totally. He recently took some friends to a ball game at the Astrodome in nearby Houston. They were startled when he took along a technical book. While they watched the game, he quietly studied.

Unusual Check Accepted

BOLTON, England (AP) — The bank teller did a double take when students from Bolton Technical College presented a check for 100 pounds ($240.) The check was made out between the upper and lower portions of shapely, 18-year-old Christine Bailey's bikini.

It was a stunt for the student's "Rag Week" (a charity fund-raising drive).

David Liptrott, 25-year-old teller, decided the check was good. "It was one check which I examined more thoroughly than usual," he said. "And it was very nice too."

Pigs, the versatile animals, besides being superbly efficient meat favorites, have snuffled truffles, flushed game, helped win the West, paid off countless mortgages, and even entertained royalty.

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Jeffersonville Church

MRS. JAMES W. JACQUES

The wedding of Miss Linda L. Long of Five Points and Mr. James W. Jacques of Columbus, was solemnized 2:30 p.m. Oct. 26, in the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Charles Hill performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned E. Long of Route 1, Mt. Sterling, and the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Jacques of Columbus, and the late Charles Jacques.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of white satin and lace. Tiers of lace accented the full overskirt, formed the tapered sleeves and edged the scoop neckline and detachable train. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion was caught to a crown of pearls and sequins. Pink and white streamers fell from her bouquet of pink roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Naomi Cowan of Columbus served as maid of honor. Her pink floor length A-line gown of velvet featured a scoop neckline and full length sleeves with an empire waistline and satin panel accenting the back. Her headpiece was a pink bow, matching the bows on the dress. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations with pink and white streamers.

Mr. Paul Burris of Columbus performed the duties of best man.

Mrs. Long wore a blue dress with checked trim and a corsage of a single white orchid with pink and white ribbons. Mrs. Jacques was attired in a beige A-line dress and a white orchid corsage with pink and white ribbons.

A reception in the social room of the church immediately followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Naomi Cowan and Miss Loretta Sue Long, sister of the bride.

The new Mrs. Jacques is a graduate of Monroe High School and is employed by the Aero Drapery Co. in Columbus. Mr. Jacques is employed by the Pure Oil Co., Columbus.

Following a wedding trip to Cincinnati the couple now resides at 5745 South 18th St., Apt. 12, Columbus.

Personals

Mrs. Donald H. Watt, 540 N. Court St., honorary state president, Daughters of the War of 1812, attended a State Board Luncheon Meeting recently at the Southern Hotel, Columbus.

Mrs. Karl Rosenberg, Akron, newly elected president, presided. The State Council will be held in March at Akron.

Committee Named By Bible Class

A nominating committee was named during the recent meeting of Westminster Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church in the home of Mrs. W. C. Watson.

Mrs. Guy G. Campbell, president, opened the meeting with prayer. Plans were discussed for the Christmas meeting when gifts will be exchanged, and for group participation by individual donations to the deacon's Christmas basket project.

Mrs. Campbell named Mrs. Jewell Thornton, Mrs. Florence Baker and Mrs. Ruth Downing to prepare a slate of officers to be presented in December.

Mrs. Leslie May, for devotions, read from the book Friendship and "An Ancient Prayer." In place of a program members made Christmas gift favors for shut-ins.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Watson assisted by Mrs. May and Miss Martha Warner.

Dinner Fetes Serviceman

A carry-in dinner was held recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wickerham, 166 Watt St., honoring their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Wickerham, the former Rita Garrett. Nick will leave soon for six months basic training with the armed forces at Camp Polk, La.

Others attending were Tom Wickerham, Miss Vicki Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pontious, Sherry, Butch and Pam; Mr. and Mrs. William Pontious, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pontious, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Pontious, Rose Marie and Paula; Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, Tammy and Christa; Ray Pontious, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Huffer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huffer, Paul F. and Joie; Mr. and Mrs. James Emerine, Eddie and Teddy; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garrett and Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Newkirk, Rosie, Buddy, Lenny, Ronny, Greg, Billy and Wilma.

The afternoon was spent visiting and taking pictures.

Pesticide In Turkeys Is Traced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of turkeys found to contain heptachlor residue may have picked up the powerful pesticide from land treated for control of chiggers, according to Agriculture Department sources.

Chiggers, the same small mites which can cause humans to itch after working on lawns, are troublesome to turkey growers who want a nice, smooth bird to sell.

The department announced last Friday that 150,000 live turkeys and some four million pounds of turkey meat were held off the Thanksgiving market after heptachlor residue was found in some birds on Oct. 9 at a Minnesota processing plant.

Officials say all contaminated birds were traced to farms supplying Arkansas Valley Industries, Inc., headquartered in Little Rock. The department said the investigation would continue to determine how widespread the distribution has been. Officials said none of the contaminated birds had reached the retail market.

Dr. Gilbert H. Wise, head of consumer protection for the Consumer and Marketing Service, said Monday he did not know for certain how the pesticide came to be in the turkeys.

He speculated, however, that it was possible they could have picked up the heptachlor from rangeland used to graze the birds.

6 More Ohioans Die In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department identified six more Ohioans Monday as being among recent victims of the Vietnam war. All were Army men.

The Pentagon listed Pfc. Robert J. Scheely of Parma, Pvt. Thomas A. Putnam of Toledo, Capt. Louis R. Susteric of Blaine, Pfc. Derwin M. Bailey of Cincinnati and Pfc. Daniel L. Starkey of Kent as having died in battle.

Sgt. Raymond A. Shoemaker II of Alton died of causes not related to hostile action.

Republicans Coax Support For President's War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are trying to coax more words, wires and letters of Vietnam policy support from President Nixon's "silent majority"—with a form letter as part of the campaign.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt took the form letter approach in urging his South Dakota constituents to register their support for the President.

His weekly newsletter supplies a clip-and-mail coupon to be signed and sent back to Washington declaring: "Count me as a member of the silent majority no longer so silent. Please tell President Nixon I support his plans for peace."

The Republican National Committee, meanwhile, said the response to Nixon's Nov. 3 speech swamped the White House.

"By week's end he had received more than 70,000 yes wires and they're still coming," the committee's newsletter said.

With a new round of antiwar protests planned in Washington later this week, Nixon supporters urged participation in to-tail market.

day's Veterans Day observances.

But Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., said those observances were not a counter-demonstration, "but rather a way for the silent majority to articulate and be heard in its support of the President."

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew urged the nation to recognize "a young silent majority who go to school, and to work, and to war if necessary."

He said they are being overshadowed by "the strident minority" of dissidents.

But in Washington, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., charged that Agnew was arousing "extreme emotionalism" which was having a bad effect on the nation.

"I blame this on the accusation that those who disagree with the administration's Vietnam policy are traitors and the direct charge by Agnew that we (senators critical of the administration's Vietnam policy) are responsible for the continuation of the war and increased battle deaths," Fulbright said.

Money Approved For Works Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Monday a total of $1.4 billion for Army Engineers and Reclamation Bureau water projects for the fiscal year that began July 1.

The only Ohio project included was a $15 million allocation for construction of the Willow Island locks and dam in Ohio and West Virginia.

School Charter Revocation Stands

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Board of Education made final Monday its revocation of the Belle Center local school system's charter and, under state law, the district must dissolve completely by next June 30.

The charter was revoked last June after the state said it fell below state standards in 47 areas.

Senate Nixes Proposed Cut In Nation's Space Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warned it might leave American astronauts figuratively stranded on the moon, the Senate has rejected a proposed $100 million cut in the U.S. space budget.

"You chop a big chunk out of here and ... you won't have enough left to bring those poor fellows down," pleaded Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., before the 46-22 roll call vote to drop the cut.

Pastore said the cut, proposed by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., would "crucify the entire program."

$3.7 billion earmarked for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in this fiscal year, said Americans already have paid $24 billion to see television record man's first steps on the moon.

"Even by Broadway standards this is a pretty stiff price for a front row seat," Proxmire said.

Debate on the appropriations measure, which provides a total of $14.9 billion for 21 federal agencies including NASA, was filled with references to Friday's blastoff of the Apollo 12 moonshot.

"We pray to God that it will be safe," said Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo. "If it is safe I am sure we will receive far more than we know now in scientific knowledge."

Proxmire argued the United States should undertake future space ventures jointly with the Soviet Union, and said he saw little value in nine more projected moonshots.

Pastore said the Soviets have refused to cooperate with Americans in space.

According to a study by Owens-Corning Fiberglas, the noisiest place to live is New York City.

4 Circleville Tigers Named To SCO All-Star Grid Team

TOM BOWERS

The South Central Ohio League held their annual football banquet Monday night at Washington Court House High School.

Wilmington High School received the gold football award symbolic of an undefeated league season. Head Coach Jim Knowles accepted the award in behalf of his staff and his boys.

League coaches had selected the SCOL All-League Football Team Sunday and the awards were presented to the players at the banquet.

Circleville was well represented as Dick Radcliff, Dick Walters, Tom Bowers and Mike Webb were selected to the team. Webb was a unanimous choice and was picked as honorary captain.

REV. Gerald Wheat of the First Presbyterian Church in Washington gave the invocation and benediction.

Entertainment was furnished by the Tijuana Brass, four students from Washington High School, who played a selection of Tijuana hits.

Robert J. Foster, Principal at Wilmington High School, presented the trophies and awards.

William Atsalis, head football coach at Wilmington College, was the speaker for the evening. He spoke on "Football as a Teacher" and emphasized the value of lessons learned from the game.

He admonished the boys to be leaders by setting good examples.

Montreal Tops In NHL Division

It took Jean Beliveau only two minutes to get Montreal rolling past Los Angeles, and into first-place in the National Hockey League's East Division.

Beliveau scored twice in the opening two minutes Monday night in guiding the Canadiens to a 6-3 victory and a one-point lead over idle New York in the ragged older division chase.

Boston snapped a five-game winless streak by romping past Oakland 8-3 in the night's only other NHL activity.

Charger Coach Sid Gillman Steps Down Due To Illness

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP) — It was the high point of the San Diego Chargers' downhill season, a victory over the New York Jets. General Manager-Head Coach Sid Gillman knelt along the sideline. He couldn't bear the pain of standing.

Six weeks after that American Football League upset, Gillman, 58, stepped down Monday as head coach, following the advice of his son-in-law doctor, Jay Malkoff.

Gillman, the only general manager and head coach the Chargers have had since the AFL was founded in 1960, remains as general manager. He announced at a hastily called news conference that offensive backfield coach Charlie Waller, 47, is his successor.

Waller played as a halfback at the University of Georgia. Gillman, who coached the Chargers to an 83-51-6 record, said of his health:

"It's nothing serious, nothing that can't be licked in time."

Malkoff said Gillman was suffering from a duodenal ulcer and an hiatal hernia, which allows stomach acid to seep up into the esophagus.

"He shouldn't have been out on the field," the doctor said of Gillman at the Sept. 28 game against New York. "He collapsed. He couldn't stand up for an entire quarter. He had to kneel there on the sideline."

That's when Malkoff started urging Gillman, in his 25th season as a head coach, to take it easy. Gillman was given a strict diet and he gulped cartons of milk. His team's play did nothing to help his condition.

After New York the Chargers edged Cincinnati, Miami and Boston, then started a three-game losing streak against Oakland. Their record is 4-5, tying them for last in the Western Division.

"It wasn't our football that prompted my decision," Gillman said. "Physically, it meant either die with football or continue to live."

"My only disappointment is to finish this way. I never had any thought of quitting coaching. I was going to go and go and go."

Washington Picked As 'Team To Beat'

South Central Ohio League basketball coaches held a meeting Sunday night at Washington Court House High School.

Wilmington Coach Fred Summers was elected president and Washington Court House Coach Gary Shaffer treasurer.

The coaches picked Court House as the team to beat with Wilmington a close second.

Court House will have a big team with experience which is a tough combination to beat.

Wilmington has several lettermen back plus a reserve team that compiled an 18-0 record last year.

Miami Trace was picked to finish third. Greenfield McClain fourth, but could be the dark horse. Hillsboro fifth and Circleville picked for last.

New Orleans And Kentucky Win In ABA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Red Robbins and the red-hot New Orleans Bucs and the Kentucky Colonels did their part Monday night to tighten up both races in the American Basketball Association.

Robbins drilled in 29 points and grabbed 21 rebounds in guiding New Orleans past Miami 123-116, while Kentucky turned back Indiana 110-100 in the night's only games.

The Bucs' eighth straight victory boosted them into a second place tie with Dallas, just 13 percentage points back of Western Division leader Los Angeles.

Robbins, a 6-foot-8, 200-pound former Tennessee star, scored 13 of his points in the final period to ward off a Miami threat. He fouled out with 1:43 left in the game—the first time in his three-year ABA career.

Steve Jones scored 27 points and James Jones 24 for the Bucs, while Don Sidle led the last-place Floridians with 30.

Kentucky blew a 24-point lead, then had to fend off a late Indiana rally in pulling to within one-half game of the Eastern Division leaders.

Hayes Ignores Boilermakers During Brief Luncheon Talk

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Somebody forgot to tell Woody Hayes it's Purdue, not Michigan that his football Buckeyes are preparing for this week.

Hayes pulled a stunt he usually reserves for Michigan Monday when he failed to mention Purdue once during his brief talk at his luncheon.

The coach of the top-ranked Buckeyes talked about injuries and performances by his squad in the 62-7 win over Wisconsin. He left Boilermaker items for chief scout Esco Sarkkinen.

Later he did admit Purdue quarterback Mike Phipps is a great one. "You never stop one like him totally," Hayes offered.

Hayes spent time with the defense last week, even spinning a few left-handed tosses at the secondary to prepare for Wisconsin sophomore passing whiz Neil Graff.

Does he plan more of the same with Phipps, the No. 7 all-time passer in major college history (4,982 yards) coming to Ohio Stadium Saturday?

"Yeah," he answered, "but I'll just go over and boost the defense's morale." Woody will confine most of his attention to the offense behind locked practice doors.

Hayes said closed practice would be used again next week for Michigan. The Wolverines and Purdue are prime Rose Bowl candidates since Ohio State cannot take a repeat trip to California.

All important Buckeye players should be healthy this week, including Rex Kern, Larry Zelina and Tom Backhus.

It was Hayes' idea to hold star quarterback Kern out of the Wisconsin game with a sore shoulder. "If we had used him, we would be going through the same thing this week. He would be missing practice again," the coach said.

Tailback Zelina will be held out of practice because of a head injury suffered last week. Backhus, a guard, has overcome a foot injury suffered Oct. 11 against Michigan State.

Hayes named quarterback Ron Maciejowski, who ran and passed for 247 yards last week replacing Kern, as offensive back.

Selected offensive lineman was Brian Donovan, who played center and guard. End Nick Roman was defensive lineman and Ted Provost defensive back.

"After seven comparatively weekend picnics," Sarkkinen warned, "we have the big two." He said Phipps, who has completed 139 of 247 passes for 2,086 yards and 18 touchdowns this fall, headlines the Boilermakers.

"Purdue still has the golden girl," he said, "and a golden arm—Phipps."

However, Phipps has more than 21-game over-all winning streak and a game big Ten victory string.

Sarkkinen noted the Boilermakers, 7-1 to Ohio State's 7-0 have five backs with 136 or more rushing yards and five receivers with 122 or more yards.

Buckeyes Retain 1st-Place Rating In AP Grid Poll

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's a bird, it's a plane, it's Ohio State!

The Buckeyes, who hit the bullseye last weekend with a 62-7 execution of Wisconsin, drew 25 of 32 first place votes Monday in the weekly poll of sports writers and broadcasters across the nation.

The men of steel from the Midwest roped 618 points overall and kept a stranglehold on first over Texas' battering Longhorns, 570, a 56-14 winner over Baylor.

Tennessee, which cut down South Carolina, 29-14, remained third, while Arkansas, a 30-6 winner over Rice, stayed fourth, and Penn State remained in fifth place after an idle week-end.

The Top Ten remained virtually the same as last week. Notre Dame dropped from eighth to ninth and Missouri climbed a spot to eighth in the only change.

Southern California held onto sixth after pasting Washington State, 28-7. UCLA stayed in seventh after a day off; Missouri hammered Oklahoma, 44-10, Notre Dame unloaded on Pitt, 49-7, and No. 10 Purdue ran over Michigan State, 41-13.

Both Ohio State and Texas managed to win big despite depleted squads. Rex Kern, the Buckeyes' magical junior quarter-

Bear Bryant Gets 'Kiss Of Death'

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash: Playing in Louisiana State's Tiger Stadium before 68,000 screaming fans usually is the kiss of death for a visiting team, but Coach Charlie McLendon goes it one better.

When the Alabama team arrived in Baton Rouge Friday night, a group of pretty girls met the bus and one climbed aboard and planted a big kiss on Coach Bear Bryant's cheek.

Bryant turned to his players and introduced the young lady.

"Boys," he said, "I'd like you to meet Miss Dorothy McLendon. She's Coach Mac's daughter."

Later, Dorothy told her father, "Daddy, I put the kiss of death on Coach Bryant."

Saturday night after a 20-15 victory that made him the first Bryant pupil to beat the master, McLendon commented, "I might just have 'Dee' kiss all the visiting coaches from now on."

Coach Dan Devine of Missouri calls Oklahoma quarterback Jack Mildren "probably the best sophomore ever to come into the Big Eight." So Saturday, Devine sent senior Terry McMillan, who was only a third-stringer at Coral Gables, Fla., High School, out to do battle with the highly recruited Mildren.

All McMillan did was complete 17 of 37 passes for 312 yards and three touchdowns as Missouri romped 44-10.

How hard was McMillan recruited?

Hawks Edge Chicago Bulls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lou Hudson earned star billing with a 57-point performance but the big hand of the night was awarded to Atlanta teammate Bill Bridges, whose last-second heroics enabled the Hawks to streak to their seventh consecutive National Basketball Association victory.

The Hawks edged the Chicago Bulls 133-132 Monday night at Auburn, Ala., on Bridge's tip-in of a desperation jumper by Walt Hazard just one second before the final buzzer. Chet Walker had put Chicago in front just nine seconds earlier, hitting two foul shots.

In the only other NBA action, San Diego ended its nine-game losing string with a 100-99 triumph over San Francisco at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Hudson, hitting mostly on long-range jump shots, tossed in 25 of 35 shots from the field and seven of eight free throws as he tied Bob Pettit's Hawks' record of most points in a game. Hudson cracked Pettit's team mark of 33 points in a half, hitting for 35 in the opening 24 minutes.

"One of his high school coaches got him a shot at Missouri Southern Junior College," Devine explained. "Missouri Southern was coached by one of our former quarterbacks, who recommended him to us."

If a father-son relationship was ever a candidate for strained feelings, it was Saturday when Wake Forest edged Virginia 23-21.

Center John Blackburn, son of the Virginia coach, snapped a ball that sailed over the punter's head and was kicked through the end zone for the safety that gave Wake Forest the triumph.

Ironically, a bad snap by first-stringer Denny Ryzek had enabled the Deacons to pull even at 21-all.

Outfielder Bob Allison of the Minnesota Twins broke in with Hagerstown, Md., in the Piedmont League in 1955.

Golden Bears Are Grid Champs

By GEORGE STRODE
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Great," echoed Upper Arlington's Marv Moorehead and Norwalk St. Paul's Mike Gottfried after their teams were named The Associated Press' 1969 Ohio high school football poll champs Monday.

It was the third straight straight Class AA title for Upper Arlington, which beat runner-up Elyria by 28 points, and first Class A crown for Norwalk St. Paul, 25 points ahead of No. 2 Newark Catholic.

The best defense in the school's history led Upper Arlington to a 10-0-0 campaign and extended the Golden Bears' winning streak to 30 games.

A great offense built around quarterback Chris Amato was responsible for St. Paul's Flyers stretching their winning skein to 21 games, including 16 this fall.

Norwalk St. Paul averaged 35.2 points with Amato throwing 24 touchdowns and covering 1,935 yard yards. The 5-foot-10, 165-pound senior rolled up 4,045 and 40 touchdowns via passing in three seasons.

Gottfried, a Morehead (Ky.) grad, has a 29-1 record in his three seasons at the Huron County school, which has 155 boys in the upper four grades.

"We're small, quick, dedicated," Gottfried said of his team that permitted only 57 points.

South Viets Suffer Heavy Losses During Past Week

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces have suffered comparatively heavy losses in a week of fighting around the Bu Dop Special Forces camp 85 miles north of Saigon, official sources reported today.

The sources said 15 allied soldiers have been killed, 75 wounded, three armored personnel carriers and four trucks have been destroyed and half a dozen American helicopters have been shot down.

A total of 60 North Vietnamese troops were reported killed, but one officer said the kill ratio — four enemy dead to one South Vietnamese or U.S. soldier — "is substantially on the bad side."

Most of the allied casualties have been Vietnamese tribesmen, mercenaries paid and led by American Green Beret troops. These are called Mobile Strike Force troops, and they form the bulk of nearly 1,000 reinforcement troops who have been deployed around Bu Dop to counter a sizeable North Vietnamese buildup.

"It's a Vietnamese Army show as far as the ground fighting is concerned," said one American officer. "We are working with them closely. They own the entire area and so they ought to be involved. Back in May we'd have gone in. Now we are working with them. We are up to our necks in Vietnamization."

Mobile Strike Force troops battled about 400 North Vietnamese six miles south of Bu Dop for 6 1/2 hours Monday night. In the heavy exchange of fire, 24 of the enemy were reported killed, while two of the Vietnamese tribesmen were killed and nine wounded, sources said. American helicopters from the 1st Air Cavalry Division supported the mercenaries, and two were shot down and a third one hit by machine-gun fire. Two American crewmen were wounded.

A mile away, North Vietnamese troops for the second time in four days attacked an American artillery base called Jerri that was set up last week to support Bu Dop. The North Vietnamese pumped 30 rounds of 120mm and 82mm mortar shells into the base, killing five Americans and wounding five.

The North Vietnamese followed up with a small ground probe, but it "never really unfolded," said one officer. North Vietnamese losses were not known.

Farther south, 67 miles northwest of Saigon, a U.S. reconnaissance plane sighted North Vietnamese troops 10 miles from the Cambodian border and called in dive bombers. Troops from the 1st Cavalry moved into the area after the bombing and found the bodies of 37 North Vietnamese soldiers. There were no U.S. casualties.

In the Mekong Delta, troops of a North Vietnamese regiment that moved into the delta last summer continued their attacks on South Vietnamese militiamen guarding the district town of Tri Ton in the Seven Mountains region about 125 miles southwest of Saigon.

The North Vietnamese attacked two militia companies south of Tri Ton, killing two of them and a civilian and wounding 16 militiamen and a civilian. Eight enemy soldiers were reported killed.

U.S. headquarters reported another American helicopter was shot down 51 miles north-east of Saigon, wounding one crewman.

Thirty-three enemy rocket and mortar attacks were reported between 8 a.m. Monday and 8 a.m. today. The U.S. Command said 13 of the attacks caused casualties or damage and seven Americans were wounded.

Drama Club To Present 'Harvey'

Man's best friend is a six foot rabbit. At least in the case of Elwood P. Dowd, it is. This friendship is the subject of the Teays Valley Drama Club's performance, "Harvey," 8 p.m. Saturday at the high school auditorium.

The light-hearted comedy evolves about a Pooka, a mythical, magical spirit in animal form, named Harvey. He is the constant companion of Dowd, portrayed by John Hines. They spend their time in service of mankind, listening to the troubles of others they meet.

Though Harvey does not make himself visible to everyone, Dowd's nervous, overwrought sister, Veta Louise Simmons, characterized by Leona Conley, often sees herself, which does not help her condition. Her daughter Myrtle Mae, played by Susan Gutheil, has her mother's temperament and a strong desire to rid herself of her uncle and his pal. Living with the carefree Dowd is not easy on the two women who feel the social position is hampered by his presence, so they plot to have him committed to a mental institution.

Veta and Myrtle's plan backfires as Dr. Lyman Sanderson, a handsome young psychiatrist portrayed by Ed Combs, misinterprets their story and has Veta committed instead. A lot of confusion and some light analysis of life lead to a solution satisfactory to all.

Other members of the cast include: Karen Lombardo, Ray Yaeger, Judy Rife, Lacy Wright, Dave Parmenter and Dave Wright.

The play is under the direction of Miss Melody Shea and student director Barb Edwards.

Tickets may be purchased from any Drama Club member or at the door.

Youth To Face Juvenile Court In Plane Hijacking

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — David L. Booth, 14-year-old high school student who tried to hijack an airliner while holding a young dancer hostage, has been charged as an incorrigible and faces a juvenile court hearing Thursday.

Booth, a freshman at suburban Norwood High School, was weeping when turned over to Hamilton County juvenile authorities by FBI agents after federal officials declined to file charges.

U.S. Attorney George Kline of Lexington, Ky., said following the incident Monday that the federal government does not have facilities to handle prosecution of juveniles.

The youth's father, Norris L. Booth, signed an affidavit charging his son is incorrigible and placed him in the hands of Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin S. Schwartz.

No reason was given for Booth's attempt to hijack a plane with 72 aboard while on the runway at the Greater Cincinnati Airport.

"He came up, grabbed me and put a knife at my side," said 18-year-old Gloria Jean House of Milford, who had gone to the airport to see her grandmother, Eulalia Armstrong, off on a trip to Mexico.

"I was really scared after he put that knife at my side and said 'You're going with me. We're going to Sweden,'" she added.

Police then said Booth then forced the girl aboard the plane with the other passengers.

Airport Police Chief Byron Kinman then boarded the plane and talked Booth into surrendering.

The flight departed for Chicago one hour, 15 minutes late on its scheduled run.

Methodists OK Project Grant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Quadrennial Emphasis Committee of the United Methodist Church meeting here has approved the first installment of a grant estimated to total $2 million for rehabilitation work in South Vietnam.

The committee allocated $132,000 Monday for permanent housing and development loans for small businessmen in South Vietnam. The church earlier earmarked $2 million for post-war rehabilitation work as part of its four-year campaign to raise $20 million by 1972 for critically underprivileged areas in this country and abroad.

The South Vietnam project calls for $100,000 to be made available through the United Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief to build 325 family units on the outskirts of Saigon and an additional $32,000 to be loaned to help re-establish small businessmen.

Vietnam . . .

(Continued from Page 1) Johnson, a former national commander of the American Legion and a Nixon appointee, strongly endorsed the use of Veterans Day to show support for the administration's Vietnam policy. He sent 100,000 packets of material to school and community leaders.

"I do not presume to speak for him (Nixon)," Johnson said in his prepared remarks. "However, I do know how dedicated he is to the task of achieving the theme of Veterans Day 1969—peace with honor . . ."

"To those who may think, or would have others think, that they alone understand and abhor the suffering and savagery of war—to them I say now that they do an injustice to America's 40 million veterans, living and dead. And they deceive themselves."

Scheduled as the centerpiece of today's heightened Veterans Day activities was an afternoon "Freedom Rally for Freedom in Vietnam and All the World" on the grounds of the Washington Monument—also the scene of Saturday's anti-war protest.

The Grand Ol' Opry was called in to entertain between speeches by members of the House and Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. Coordinators of the rally said Monday if the weather was good, they expected about 10,000—well below the estimates of a quarter-million and up being put out by war protest groups for Saturday.

"The problem is," Tower said wryly, "most of the silent majority are working people who can't get away from their jobs." Across the land, supporters of Nixon's war course were being urged to light their headlights and porchlights, fly the Stars and Stripes, parade, wear arm-bands and "I Love America" signs, and pray.

A number of organizations are trying to expand the pro-administration demonstrations to the whole week. Participants can take their choice of names for it: Operation Speak Out, A Week of National Unity, United We Stand, National Confidence Week, Honor America Week.

Ohioan Plans World Air Trip Despite Plane Failure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Airplane engineer James Bede, forced to cut short his attempt to set a world's nonstop distance flying record, says he still plans to fly nonstop around the world.

"I'm not getting any younger," the 36-year-old owner of Bede Aviation, Inc., said here Monday night. "I'd like to try it around the world in the Spring but I may want to make one more test flight."

Bede had completed 8,956 of the planned 11,515 miles of his flight Monday when his autopilot, then his alternator failed, leaving him without electricity. Bede said he tried to head for Cleveland, his home, and would have ditched in Lake Erie if he could not have found it.

But his ground crew found him over Toledo and guided him in safely there.

Bede said performance versus fuel economy tests he ran while flying back and forth between Columbus and Kansas City convinced him that it will some day be possible to fly a private plane from Tokyo to Seattle, Wash., on $21 worth of fuel. His powered sailplane burned about four gallons an hour, he said.

Bede said he took no stimulants with him, but had no trouble staying alert during his 65 hours aloft because there were "so many things to do."

He said the only changes he will make on his next flight are minor ones in the cockpit, such as the location of pads and pencils—and the compass, on which he frequently bumped his head.

Bede planned to return to his business today. He said it would take about a week to arrange the data from this flight. Then he will start thinking about the next one.

Historical Society Names Winners Of Youth Contest

Two girls, neighbors on East Union Street, were the only youngsters to locate the iron ornamentation in the Pickaway County Historical Society's most recent Junior Membership Contest.

They are: Evelyn Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Howard, 141 E. Union St. and Cheri Roan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roan, 135 E. Union. Evelyn is 12, and a student at Junior High; Cheri is 11 and goes to Mound Street School.

The ironwork is a column on the New American Hotel front, 119 N. Court St. the shield, which is at eye-level, reads "Ohio Scioto Machine Works, Circleville." The approximate date is 1885.

Mrs. Davis has received many inquiries from adults about the picture. The favorite guesses were the Masonic Temple or Pythian Castle. No one could believe that it is at eye-level where everyone in the county may have passed by dozens of times.

I would like to thank all the voters who supported me in Tuesday's General Election and ask for your continued support in the future.

Now please take a moment of silent prayer for our fallen veterans, for without them this election would not have been possible.
